

Kathmandu, Nagarkot, Chitwan, Lumbini & Pokhara Tour (10 Days)

Trip Overview

Are you planning a short trip to Nepal but don't know where to visit? In that case, let us help you find the perfect places with natural, cultural, historical, religious, and adventurous exposure that will fulfil your travel desires. No matter where you visit in Nepal, each moment engraves a memory in your heart.

Kathmandu is living proof of the history of Nepal. You will probably not find any other place that encompasses tradition and modernism. While Kathmandu is a very modern city, it never lets go of its roots. Nepal and nature go hand in hand. You cannot stop thinking about all the beautiful natural beauty when thinking of Nepal.

If nature is where you find solace, Pokhara and Nagarkot are two places which you must visit. The high mountains, lakes, and picture-perfect landscapes in Pokhara look like something straight out of a painting. The peaceful hills of Nagarkot are sure to take away your sorrows. Chitwan offers you fascinating forests, wildlife, and adventure. Away from all the worldly desires, you learn the meaning of life in Lumbini, where Buddha opened his eyes for the first time.

Orchid Tours and Travels has carefully crafted a 10-day tour to these cities where you get the real essence of Nepal.

FAQs

Is it true that we can see Everest from Nagarkot?

While many people deny to believe that, the answer is Yes. That said, you only glimpse the world's tallest peak under suitable weather conditions. If the skies are clear and you are at an ideal spot like the viewpoint, getting a vision of Everest is very likely.

Is there a good time to visit Chitwan National Park?

If you don't care about the heat and want maximum chances of seeing the animals during the safari, hot dry seasons between April and May would be the best. If you're seeking a milder climate and don't care much about the animal sightings, October to March is your time. Avoid the rainy season as heavy rain can make the roads difficult and animal visibility is extremely rare.

What is the weather in Kathmandu like?

Kathmandu's weather remains mild throughout the year. The summers are not scorching and the winters are not that cold. So, it is perfect for travelers most of the time.
